INTRODUCTION

In March 2020, as part of the province’s efforts to ensure British Columbians do not lose their home during the COVID-19 pandemic, the Province of BC launched the British Columbia Temporary Rental Supplement (BC-TRS) program to be administered by BC Housing. This temporary program provides a short-term Benefit\(^1\) to assist eligible Low and Moderate Income renters who are struggling to pay their rent as a result of income loss or reduction due to the impact of COVID-19. This program may also assist in minimizing any financial losses experienced by landlords who have tenants who are impacted and eligible to receive this rent supplement. The program will be delivered by BC Housing starting April 2020, with Benefits advanced directly to Landlords on behalf of eligible households, and is expected to run through June 30, 2020.

This framework outlines the key elements, standards and guidelines of the BC-TRS program and defines the roles and responsibilities of BC Housing in the delivery and management of the program. It ensures the program is accountable to the Recipients and the public by providing for the equitable distribution of the Benefit in a fair and consistent manner.

PROGRAM PRINCIPLES

The following principles ensure equitable and accountable delivery and management of the BC-TRS program. They guide the operation of the program and govern BC Housing’s interaction with the program, Applicants\(^2\), Recipients\(^3\) and Landlords\(^4\).

   a) BC Housing will provide consistent and fair service to all Applicants, Recipients and Landlords.
   b) The program will integrate with, and be consistent with, other government programs to the greatest extent possible.

2. Program is accessible and responsive to all eligible households
   a) All eligible households will have an equal opportunity to access the program.
   b) Every effort will be made to respond to the diverse needs of households and reduce barriers to access (e.g., language, physical ability, etc.).

3. Transparency and accountability
   BC Housing will:
   a) Develop and maintain program policies and procedures.
   b) Maintain reliable and consistent records.
   c) Provide clarity to program Applicants and Recipients regarding program requirements.
